7. Brief about the event:

The First Aid and CPR Training Programme for college NCC cadets was successfully conducted on 15th November 2025 at St. Francis College. The event was attended by 42 cadets. The programme aimed to equip cadets with essential skills and knowledge to effectively respond to medical emergencies.

The resource person, Dr. Masroor Mir Hussain, MBBS, a renowned medical expert, provided comprehensive training to the cadets. The session covered various aspects of first aid, including ABC and CPR, wound management, bleeding control, choking, fracture management, and cardiac arrest response. The training also included live demonstrations of first aid and CPR techniques, followed by hands-on practice sessions for the cadets.

Cadets gained a comprehensive understanding of first aid and CPR principles, along with the practical skills required to respond effectively during medical emergencies. The cadets appreciated the interactive and hands-on approach adopted by Dr. Masroor Mir Hussain, which made the training session engaging and informative. At the conclusion of the programme, the cadets were certified as life-savers in First Aid and CPR.
